Stelmashchuk awarded SPIE Optics and Photonics Education Scholarship

BELLINGHAM, Washington, USA – June 4, 2019 – Olga Stelmashchuk has been awarded a 2019 Optics and Photonics Education Scholarship by SPIE, the international society for optics and photonics, for her potential contributions to the field of optics, photonics or related field.

Stelmashchuk is a PhD student in the Research and Development Center of Biomedical Photonics at Orel State University (Russian Federation), where she conducts research in the field of fluorescence spectroscopy for the control of drug delivery under the supervision of Dr Andrey Dunaev and studies fluorescein labeled particles for theranostic. She actively participates in outreach activities to promote optics and photonics.

The Society awarded $298,000 in education scholarships to 84 outstanding SPIE student members, based on their potential contribution to optics and photonics, or a related discipline. Award-winning applicants were evaluated, selected and approved by the SPIE Scholarship Committee, Chaired by SPIE volunteer Jeremy Bos.

Through 2018, SPIE has distributed $6 million dollars in individual scholarships. This ambitious effort reflects the Society's commitment to education and to the next generation of optical scientists and engineers around the world.
